REORGANIZATION

KRAB has always relied on individual volunteers for the greater part of its programming. This month KRAB expands this policy by bringing a number of new shows to the air. Many programs already existing have been moved to new times, hopefully better times, for your listening convenience. Following you will find three lists of programs. The first is all the new programs to be aired beginning this month. The second list is those programs already existing which have been moved to new times. The third is of programs which began in the last couple of months.

STEREO SUBSCRIPTIONS

In commemoration of going stereo, at last, we are offering a special bargain on subscriptions: A two-for-one sale. You may subscribe, resubscribe, or extend your subscription at the $25/year rate, and get an extra subscription for a friend, for a year, without additional cost. Use one, or both, as a gift, whatever. Its just a way for us to reach more people and let them know what KRAB is doing, and for you to help. This offer available only from October 1st through the 29th. Why don't you take advantage of it?

THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Starting September 14th KRAB initiated a nightly news broadcast dealing with international affairs and events. This was the product of several months preparation, including the production of the weekly International News Summary (defunct) and the 7:00 Alarm (also defunct). Utilizing the services of the British Broadcasting Corporation, (BBC Radio Newsreel and related specials), National Public Radio's All Things Considered, and Internews, the program presents detailed information about what is happening in the rest of the world, without duplicating the efforts and opinions expressed in other electronic media. The program also draws from a variety of national and international publications, from La Monde to The Christian Science Monitor, and features interviews and discussion of people specializing in specific geographical areas, providing background and insight into events in a changing and frequently confusing world. The International News is directed by Jim Lobe, with assistance from three to six people each night. If you are interested in participating, (this is a volunteer effort) give us a call at the station. For the remainder of the year, the program will (most likely) continue at its present 30 minute format. After that time, should the material resources be developed sufficiently, we will expand to include local coverage. Listen every Monday through Friday night at 10:00PM. (Also, hear the BBC Radio Newsreel every weekday morning at 7:00 during Early Music)

.....YOUR EAR

Also starting this month, every Friday night will be devoted to something special in spoken or musical dramatic arts: radio plays, opera, readings, or something entirely unexpected. The highlight this month will be the broadcast of a new play written for radio by Edward Albee, Listening, which includes Albee in the cast.

ABOUT KRAB

.....a noncommercial educational radio station licensed to the Jack Straw Memorial Foundation, a non-profit corporation. The station broadcasts at an effective radiated power of 45,000 watts, on a frequency of 107.7 MHz, FM. And as of this month, in Stereo. Offices and studios are located at 1406 Harvard, Seattle, Washington 98122. The phone number is 325-5110.

Listeners who contribute $25 or more each year become subscribers, and are entitled to receive the monthly program guide, of which this is one. Checks should be made out to KRAB, and all donations are tax-deductible. KRAB's major source of financial support is from its listeners: Listener sponsored radio needs your help.

In recent years certain words have come to be associated with radio stations like KRAB: "access", "community", "public", "alternative", etc. We abhor such cliches. They degrade the concept, reducing it to a conceptual framework small enough and shaped to fit in pigeon hole like minds. KRAB, we hope, will always be more than any of those phrases. Instead of devoting our time to any single, and ingrown, "community", KRAB will continue to provide worthwhile informative and enlightening programming that we hope will be as meaningful for listeners to hear as it is for producers to produce. The programming will not be given to entertaining any single self-aggrandizing group or aimed at an amorphous mass, but will be designed to reach and communicate, at different times, with a wide variety of people with varying backgrounds, opinions and interests.

Early in the formation of KRAB it was argued that for a radio station to be truly responsive to the needs of that part of "the community" not favored with access to, or programming produced by, commercial media, that station must, among other things, be operated by a small, dedicated, low paid staff whose goal is to encourage and support the activities of volunteers in producing the actual programming. This continues to be the way of KRAB. There are many things things for volunteers to do at KRAB, ranging from recording, board operation and production to vital support activities such as addressing, envelope stuffing, and cleaning. If you are interested give us a call, 325-5110.

Anyone with opinions in disagreement with those expressed on any program broadcast on KRAB is invited to contact the station for time to express their views.

Occasionally KRAB will trade mailing lists with other non-profit institutions. If you do not want your name traded, call the station and tell us so.

7:30YOUR EAR
So Halloween is still two days away: Tonight a KRAB version of "Light's Out", perhaps not so scary, but certainly strange. A montage of sounds and, frequently, dreamlike leaps of fantasy. If this all seems vague and cryptic its only because you will better be surprised, if ignorant. Sources range from Donald Barthelme to Franz Kafka and the first part of what will be a KRAB produced serial "The Day the World Ended" by Max (Fu Manchu) Rohmer.

The END

No, part of your guide is not missing; You may not have known it, but back in Washington (DC) our reps have been busy revising the calender: All months are now 2 days shorter, which will create a special 24 day month, which will enable congress to vacation for an extra 24 days per year. Actually this is a leap guide, we will catch up next month.
